Co-operative Mining

Arguing from the analogy of the granges, the Tuscarora Review points out that union is strength in mining as well as in other departments of industry. By establishing granges all over the country, reasons the Review, our farmers have finally succeeded in very effectually squelching the swarms of "middle men" who so long fattened upon the substance of the husbandman. To some extent the skilled laborers of the nation, by establishing "Trades Unions" and protective societies, have succeeded in securing themselves from oppressive extortion. There can be no rational reasons why the impecunious mine owners of Nevada may not be equally profited and protected by intelligent combination. It is a trite adage that. "It takes a gold mine to develop a silver mine." Experience has not only established the truth of the adage, but it has also shown that in ninty-nine instances out of a hundred, the unaided prospector is litterally wasting his labor upon the desert air. If he invokes the help of foreign capital, the prospector rarely obtains the coveted assistance, and if he does obtain such assistance, the chances are that he will be either unmercifully "cinched," or completely "frozen out" of his property. What is needed in Nevada is the combination of mining interests, instead of the selfish impracticable methods which now prevail. The mine owners in the various camps of the State should combine their mining interests and make, upon some rational basis, a common business of the entire pool of claims and prospect. As a rule nearly every new mining district in the State has received an ugly black eye by reason of costly and vexatious litigation. All this might be avoided by a friendly combination of interests upon the same plan so successfully perfected by the Granges and Trades Unions of the country.

When Dom Pedro reached Rio he scowled at the elaborate and expensive decorations, refused to listen to the lengthy addresses of the authorities and rushed to the imperial chapel without speaking to any one.

Minister Noyes has taken up his residence in Paris, in the splendid apartments in the Avenue Josephine, formerly occupied by the Duke de Montpensier.

General Franz Sigel has purchased a farm at Blooming Grove, Pike county, Pensylvania, where he wil place his three sons, two of whom are to become farmers.

A Texas Theatre.

Here in Galveston the vaudeville has fared much better than the legitimate. An amusing resort, with the rather complete than euphonious title of "Grand Central Novelty Theatre," has had a very good run of patronage, and doubtless at the season's end will have a more "solid" record than the opera house. The careless freedom of Southern life and custom is manifest in a striking degree to the stranger from the north upon his first entrance into the "Novelty" theatre. He sees on the lower floor some 300 chairs, intended evidently for occupation by the middle and lower classes. At one side of the room is a handsomely mirrored bar, there being no ordinances in the way here to prevent the sale of liquor in a place of amusement. Waiter girls convey the ordered beverage to the thirsty in the audience below, and stand in waiting in the "ladies' circle" above, where, if you ascend, you will find most any night a pretty fair representation of the blooded youth of Galveston. This upper circle is a general reception room, where the ladies of the company receive their gentlemen friends at the latters expense. Tables are here provided for wine parties, who have the choice of sipping native champagne at a foreign price, either here or in one of the several parlors attached. The reader may think this a rather false and easy style of keeping "open house" that might lead to serious results. I am satisfied it would not do at all in the northern cities, where our social life runs to extremes; but there seems to be no apprehension of any great danger from dissipation in this latitude. Drinking is more common and undisguised in Galveston than in any northern city I know of, yet there is very little drunkenness here among the higher classes. In the North drinking is a passion; in the South an appetite. The passion may not be restrained, the appetite can be satisfied.

SIMULATION AND REALITY.—Whoever has habitually attended circuses in this country remembers the Conrad brothers, acrobatic clowns, and their comical performances, in which one pretended to be dead, while the other tumbled him about. They recently went to Germany. The London Era contains the following: "One evening the elder Conrad fell to the ground after a pretended blow, and was turned and returned, as usual. His arms and legs were jerked, he was struck and kicked and dragged, but preserved a steady impassibility. Suddenly an expression of distress could be noticed through the grotesquely painted lineaments of his brother, who hastily dropped on his knees and placed his hand upon the heart of the inanimate clown, exclaiming: 'My poor brother is dead!' At this the audience only laughed. 'Gentlemen,' said the distressed man, with tears in his voice, 'I assure you that he is dead.' Then, taking him tenderly in his arms, he bore him from the arena. The crowd appeared struck with the natural manner in which the bereft clown expressed grief, and applauded him vigorously as he departed. There were loud encores for both, but neither presented himself. Death had been more thoroughly simulated than ever before."

Hewitt—Can you sing, Sam?
Tilden—Can I sing? Hear me: Do, ra, me, Fraud—
Hewitt—No, no, not Fraud!—Fa! fa! Try it the other way.
Tilden—Down the scale? All right: Do, se, la, sol, Fraud!
Hewitt—Fraud! No, not fraud. You can't think of anything but fraud.
Tilden—It's you that was befrauded my friend. It's you and the people, not me. It's my duty to sing fraud. And I'm going to, Abram, as long as I can. Now: Do, ra, me, Fraud, sol, la, se, do!
Hewitt—Mad, mad. Poor old man! —Graphic.

Gubernatorial.

Governor Bradley seems to have business which calls him to every part of of the State, and at no place is he safe from the interviewers. They all ask him "will you run" and he says "no." Then he says "I am in the hands of my friends," and that suspicious pot boils once more.

We do not believe that Broadhorns ever seriously contemplated a third term, and for the prime reason that he could not get it. We are at a loss further, to know why he should be abused because he answered questions. As a Republican we should encourage his candidacy, because having served two terms, he is the easiest man to beat. We take it upon ourselves, however, to predict that Bradley will not be a candidate. J. C. Hagerman, Jerry Schooling, and L. T. Fox have been mentioned upon the Democratic side, and Geo. A. King, C. C. Batterman, and John H. Kinkead by Republicans. If these men are the only ones before the conventions, King and Hagerman will be the nominees. There are, however, many slips between the cup and lip, and certain manipulators who are canvassing both conventions may conclude upon material changes. At all events we can see no reason why Governor Bradley should be forced into prominence as a candidate when his own friends know that they can not indorse a third term. Let's abuse somebody else awhile.

Statesmanship takes onward strides with the years and increases its degree in majesty and self-respect in imperceptible ratio. And yet all these great things are wrought by simple and artless deeds. The other day Gordon said that Conkling was dictating to the Chair; Conkling said Gordon lied, and Gordon repeated con expressione. Mutual friends interposed and everybody feels that these great men have been more able Senators in consequence, and the mantle which shrouds each Senatorial form is of a richer purple.

Here is the first case on record and let it be passed around. The first instance where any portion of a mining dividend ever took the form of gift to a public institution occurred in Elko. The Trustees of the Scorpion mine had $178 left after paying their dividend and expenses. They gave the amount to pay a church debt. Such a donation makes the public works of bonanza kings insignificant indeed.

The Central Pacific Railroad has thoroughly canvassed and prepared its petition for Congress for the transfer of lands in this State. The Company's agents have visited all of the counties except Washoe, and the petitions are in readiness. We understand that a counter petition is to be circulated and forwarded, giving the right side of the question.

Fighting is reported on both sides of the Rio Grande, between Texas militia and Mexican troops. The Governor of Texas has telegraphed for Federal aid. With the army at its present ebb Mexico may take a notion to annex us, and hence we recommend that suitable apology be made to the senor before there is chance for any such unfortunate occurrence.

An ingenious press correspondent tells us that the defalcations of savings banks in the East has induced many investments of wages in cheap homes. He adds, however, his opinion that all the rotten concerns have been eliminated. We respectfully submit to him that he has overlooked his own opinions, which still remain for treatment.

Ryland has withdrawn from the Senatorial contest and the Democratic cat is now expected to jump vigorously in some particular direction.

The Enterprise sums up the Hayes Conkling squabble in this way:

The Hayes-Conkling controversy continues to be the all-absorbing topic in political circles. Conkling's friends assert that his terms of compromise are Evart's dismissal from the Cabinet. On the other hand, the President preserves an exasperating coolness under the circumstances, and quietly ignores the existence of any quarrel with the Senator; and anti-Conkling men predict that if he is let severely alone he will strut himself to death over his supposed victory.

A Few Plain Facts.

The Tribune this morning is compelled to acknowledge that the bonds under the law of 1870 are payable in gold and silver. This is certainly a point gained. It has heretofore always declared that they were only payable in gold. But it says that the bill pending virtually demonetizes gold, because:

It provides, not for a very small and limited coinage of silver, such as has existed prior to the issue of bonds, but for an unlimited coinage of silver, and it makes that coinage, not on the basis of the existing value of silver, as recognized throughout the civilized world, but on the basis of the old value of silver, before the enourmous product of the last ten years had lowered it. The inevitable result would be that, under such circumstances, gold would be entirely driven from circulation, and payment of large sums could be made only in silver.

1. The coinage of silver which had existed prior to the issuing of the bonds was no more limited than the coinage of gold now is. From 1796 down to 1873 the coinage was unlimited.

2. Silver was not coined, because it was, relatively, the dearer metal.

3. That the enormous product of the last ten years had not lowered the price of silver is conclusively shown by the fact that when silver was demonetized it was at three per cent. premium over gold. Demonetization took place not ten, but four years ago.

40. Demonetization was the cause of the decline in the value of silver, and remonetization will put the value back where it was before that step.

50. Congress has the power to regulate and fix the disproportions of the two metals, and it can certainly guard against either being driven out of circulation by the other.—Graphic.

WHAT THE CAT IS KEPT FOR.—A few days ago a teacher in one of the primary schools in a city not far from Boston was instructing her lowest class in natural history. Her subject was the cat and its habits, and as she proceeded with her remarks she was charmed with the wrapt attention of her diminutive auditors. After her talk was over she proceeded to question her scholars in order to see how much they knew of the subject under consideration, and many were the answers—showing that she had not wasted her effort—that she received. At last she said to the smallest of her boys, a little mite with chubby cheeks and glistening eyes:

"Johnny, what does your mother keep a cat for?"

"To lay kittens," was the unexpected reply.

The questioning for that session came to an abrupt end.—Boston Post.

REMARKABLE MORMON MARRIAGE.—But the most remarkable case of incestuous intermarriage that ever happened in the Territory is thus described: A certain bishop of the Mormon Church married a widow with two daughters, which will be named Ann and Mary, for the purpose of stating the condition of this marital problem. After Ann and Mary grew up the bishop married them also. By the mother he had a son named James; by Mary he had a daughter named Sallie, and by Ann he had a daughter named Jane. Jim married Sallie and had a son named John; Ann's daughter Jane married John, and had a son named Richard. The problem, or rather, problems, are: what relation is John to the bishop; to his own mother and father, and to the bishop's wife and her immediate children?—Detroit Free Press.

A Temperance Crusade—The Murphy Movement in Reno—G. S. Allen on "the Social Glass."

Rev. W. C. Gray, during his stay in Reno, has taught many of our people the way to reach the Methodist church, but that place of worship was uncomfortably filled last evening upon the occasion of G. S. Allen's lecture upon "the social glass." We can hardly give a thorough review of the gentleman's discourse, but shall aim to give an idea of his method of treatment. His claim for special consideration rested upon the fact that the Murphy movement was based upon principles of charity and kindness. There was no abuse of unfortunate or vicious men, but the simple endeavor was to reason with them, show beyond doubt the blessings and comforts of a temperate life, and taking the unfortunate kindly by the hand, lead them to their better selves. The speaker related several anecdotes bearing upon different portions of his theme, and by his dramatic power, which was considerable, carried the audience with him.

He showed that the only effective power in reclaiming the drunkard was the persistent kindness and charity of those around him. Mr. Allen then told a story of Spencer, celebrated as the author of the Spencerian method of penmanship, who drank for years, ruined his prospects and turned a happy home into a hell upon earth. Still he found the love of an angel wife guarding the image of what he had been and loving the wreck in memory of the proud man whom she had promised to honor and cherish. Suddenly Spencer, while drunk, realized this state of things and determined upon reform. Calling for a two-inch auger he bored a hole through the side of the house, and solemnly swore that until it grew up he would never touch liquor again. He kept his pledge, saved by love and kindness.

The lecturer believed that the social glass was the root of every drunken evil—that lives of inebriety often commenced at the dimpled hands of ladies who proffered the first drink. His remarks were interspersed with stories both laughable and tearful. He aped the drunkard, the cross wife, the miner, &c., at will, and the congregation admitted the force of his remarks by hearty sympathy with each new branch of the subject.

At the conclusion of the lecture all were invited to come forward and sign the cards, and be decorated with the blue ribbon, which is an outward indication that the wearer has foresworn King Alcohol and his hosts. Many availed themselves of the privilege, and the lecturer announced his purpose of canvassing the town to-day. Lecture to-night in the Congregational Church.

A SAD MISTAKE.—The improvements now going forward in the County Clerk's office has misplaced many of the papers, and made mistakes very easy. To-day a bashful youth entered the office and called for one o' them licenses, stating his intention of hitchin' with neighbor Jones' darter. Deputy Clerk Mann feeling for the youth hastened to put him out of misery, and owing to the confusion got hold of the wrong blank but in a methodical way filled it out and mumbling over the customary "so help you" said, "There you are young man one dollar please." Upon going to the Justice it was found much to the bridegrooms dismay that Mann had given a committment for Grand Larceny, and it required the united explanations of family and friends to keep Barlow from making the arrest.

CANED.—We have always said that unless Tom Hymers mended his ways trouble would ensue. He has however not heeded our warnings, and Friday evening was caned in consequence. It was sent down by W. Mooney of Virginia City. The stick is Rose-wood; the head of silver, and the general appearance simply immense. Tom says that when he and Dick are promenading the "bully vards" of New York he will lean upon that cane, his eyes will kindle with emotion, his voice grow husky and his nose will assume a parle hue as he thinks of the sage-brush and friends of his youth.

His Method.

Geo. Allen in Newcastle—His Generous Contracts.

A few days since business was made lively and rather exciting in Reno, by the operations of a man who called himself George Allen. This gentleman longed to be an aristocrat, and lacking the wherewithal, played upon the confidence of our citizens for the purpose of recuperating his exchequer. He borrowed a deed, ostensibly for the purpose of looking up title, and then borrowed some money, possibly upon the strength of his good looks, and decamped. Our citizens pocketed their losses with good grace, and his transactions were described in the Gazette.

Since that time it seems that Allen has not been idle, as proven by private letters now before us from Newcastle. It seems that his first hard work in that section was to purchase all of the fruit raised in the foot-hills. He accordingly made an agreement with one George Ballen to take all of the fruit which he raised next year. He was to pay for this a generous price, and signed "George Allen, for the Nevada Fruit Preserving Association, Brookins, Salisbury & Co." Upon the same errand Allen visited Mrs. M. A. Smith, and ordered a lot of dried fruit for Brookins & Co., calling himself Charley Brookins. In visiting another person, however, he stated that he had lent Mrs. Smith five dollars, which statement was promptly disputed by that lady. Allen then seemed to think for the first time that the Nevada Fruit Preserving Company might fail, so he concluded to go into the land business again. For this purpose he borrowed the necessary papers, and decamped as he did here. Mr. Allen would look exceedingly well behind a few iron bars, and we hope this second biography may be republished for his benefit. Copies of the Gazette were in demand in Newcastle shortly after Allen's departure.

WINTER VACATION.—Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls takes its Winter vacation, beginning December 20, and ending three weeks later. The school has enjoyed a good support, notwithstanding the hard times of the present year, and we hope that the new year may witness an increase of prosperity for this worthy institution. The building has been full during the past term and parents will surely consult their best interests in making use of these opportunities provided by private generosity, and improved by the unselfish labor of cultured men and women.

ANNUAL MEETING.—Pursuant to notice, the stockholders of the Segregated Monarch Mining Company held their annual meeting to-day. A majority of the stock was found to be represented, and the meeting was called to order by President Bishop. Upon motion duly considered the Company proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year. The new Board of Trustees was determined as follows: Geo. Alt, T. K. Hymers, S. Bishop. The Board then organized by the election of S. Bishop President, and P. B. Comstock Secretary. Meeting adjourned.

PERSONAL.—Jim Byers, well known to all old residents of Plumas county, and Newton Evans were among the passengers bound for the East this morning. Byers has for some years been County Clerk of Plumas county, and Evans is the well-known cattle dealer. Thomas Hymers, our own Tom, was also booked for all the Eastern cities.

RETURNED.—District Attorney Cain, who has been rusticating at Sacramento for some days, returned to the home of his boyhood last night. He shed many tears at the departure of Hymers, and when asked how much Senatorial coin he brought back, refused to respond.

FIREMAN'S MEETING.—We are requested to urge every fireman to attend the meeting at the engine house to-night. Business of great importance is to come before the meeting and every member should be there. Turd out, keep you organization in effective working order.

MUSICALE.—The "School for Girls" will close on Wednesday evening next with the customary musicale. The programme is perhaps the best yet given and shows the result of industry and perseverance in the musical department.

Jottings.

Christmas is coming.

To-day we witnessed the first sign of the coming storm.

Hon. W. M. Boardman goes below to-night to be absent about ten days.

Firemen ought to attend the meeting to-night.

New rails are being laid on the C. P track a short distance below town.

Turkey raffle every night at Jake Becker's.

The changes of the County Clerks office are nearly completed.

J. P. Grey is making a fine addition to his house on Fourth Street,

R. F. Hoy of Verdi, is in town to-day.

Why don't somebody get up a Christmas ball, or something of that sort.

James H. Borland goes to Rye Patch to-night. He will be gone two or three days.

Thomas Hymers, vulgarly called "Bald-headed Tom," did go East this morning, "for a fact."

C. S. Varian has returned from Winnemucca with his water suit well in hand.

The boys report fair skating at Eastman's pond, about two miles below town.

Thomas Bisset, a former attache of this office, left Reno last night for the metropolis of the golden State.

W. T. Kirkpatrick, agent, will shortly visit Eureka in the interests of the Continental Oil and Transportation Company.

Pasha Stoddard has returned from the war. He describes the flight from Plevna as the most exciting he ever witnessed. The drouth was fearful.

It's a good joke on a fellow when, after tramping all day and shooting what he supposes to be a fine duck, some one who is posted tells him it is a mud-hen.

WATER SUIT.—P. N. Marker returned from Winnemucca night before last, and looked pleased, as well he might. In the recent great water suit which excited so much interest among the farmers of Big Meadows. Mr. Marker won all of the water, costs of suit and $1 damages. His attorney Mr. Varian, seems to think he ought to have had damages as well, but accepts the water and costs with as good grace as possible.

LOBBYISTS.—From private sources we learn that Nevada has furnished her share of lobbyists to the Senatorial fight now in progress in Sacramento. Geo. W. Cassidy is at the capital in the interest of Mark McDonald. Good oid Deacon Parkinson keeps the fear of the Lord before the legislative eye, and District Attorney Cain has been hovering about the outskirts, waiting for something to turn up.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral services of the infant daughter of W. W. and E. B. Coffin, will take place to-morrow at 3, P. M. from the family residence.

The very nicest Christmas present is a fine Weber Piano. They can be had by calling at C. J. Brookins & Co.'s Music and Variety Store, on Virginia Street, Reno, Nevada. 12-17tf

WATCHES!! JEWELRY!!

ROMAINE GOLD,

SO EXTENSIVELY WORN IN PARIS, was first discovered in 1870, by the celebrated French chemist, Mons. D. Be Dainge, who manufactured it into jewelry, and for five years sold it to the leading jewelers of Paris for Solid Gold. In 1875, when his secret became known, ten of the manufacturing jewelers established a stock company, with a capital of $10,000,000 for the purpose of manufacturing Romaine Gold Jewelry and Watches. With this immense capital and the aid of improved machinery, they are enabled to produce all the latest patterns of jewelry at less than one-tenth the cost of solid gold, and of a quality and color which makes it impossible even for experts to detect it from the genuine.

We have secured the exclusive agency of the United States and Canada, for the sale of all goods manufactured from this metal, and in order to introduce them in the most speedy manner, have put up assorted sample lots as given below, which we will sell at one-tenth the retail value until January 1st, 1878. Read the list.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical Institute.

209, KEARNEY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.

Established in 1854,

For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all Female Complaints and Diseases of the Nervous System.

THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in San Francisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best medical and surgical treatment, for the above and all other affections and complaints. Consultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE.

To the Afflicted:

Dr. L. J. Czapkay would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE and resumed the practice of his profession. The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his very extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principal cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the experience of the most learned in the profession, the benefit from which he offers to all in need of his services. Rheumatic affections, chronic catarrh, diseases of the stomach and kidneys, liver complaints, etc., successfully treated. Those who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. All communication strictly confidential. Medicines sent by express. Address,

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe.—The State of Nevada sends to Ceresa Gerunia, Antonio Bovario, and —— Lopori, co partners doing business under the firm name and style of Ceresa Gerunia & Co., greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendants by James Mayberry as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service). If served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover a judgment against you, the defendants, for the sum of Three Thousand, Ninety-four and 28-100 Dollars, ($3,094 28) gold coin of the United States, in favor of the plaintiff, said sum being a balance due the plaintiff on an account for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered by plaintiff to defendants at their especial instance and request; also for board of men (employees of defendants) and horse feed obtained at the special instance and request of defendants from plaintiff; said account commencing on or about the 1st day of October, A. D. 1875, and ending on the 17th day of December, A. D. 1876, the whole of said account amounting to the sum of $12,094 28, on which there was paid the sum of $9,000, leaving the sum of $3,094 28 balance due as aforesaid, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will take judgment for the said amount, besides interest and costs of suit.

{seal} In testimony whereof, I, P. B. Comstock, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 31st day of August, A. D. 1877.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SECond Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to Hill & Oakes, Anselmo Torrelli, Luiga Dellapiga, Albert Map, G. W. Mapes and B. F. Sheldon, greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendants, by A. D. Sisson, W. W. Wallace and Clark Crocker, copartners, under name of Sisson, Wallace & Co., as plaintiffs, in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein, within ten days after the service on you of this Summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover $628.78, with interest, all in U. S. gold coin, from defendants, Hill & Oakes, alleged to be due for lumber and material furnished them by the Reno Lumber Company, and to foreclose and determine a mechanics lien, claimed against lots one and two in block P, on the corner of Virginia and Second streets, in the town of Reno, county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and the frame buildings thereon. Plaintiffs allege an assignment of said defendants' lien to plaintiffs, that defendants Torrelli, Dellapiga, Man, Mapes and Sheldon, have, or claim to have, some interest in the property and that the materials furnished for the construction of the buildings aforesaid, and with the knowledge of the defendants last named, and their failure to give notice in writing by posting within three days after obtaining knowledge that they would not be responsible for such materials. Plaintiff prays judgment of foreclosure and for personal judgment against Hill & Oakes; all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiffs will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

{SEAL} In testimony whereof, I, P. B. Comstock, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 25th day of July, A. D. 1877.
